

First Phosphate Corp.

Symbol: CSE: PHOS | OTCQX: FRSPF

Sector: Resource

Purpose: Raise Awareness / Open Market Buying

First Phosphate (CSE: PHOS) (OTCQX: FRSPF) (FSE: KD0) is an exploration, mineral development and cleantech company dedicated to building and onshoring a vertically integrated mine-to-market LFP battery supply chain for North America. Target markets include energy storage, data centers, robotics, mobility and national security.

Investor Highlights:

- Received first payment on definitive bankable offtake agreement
- Fully cashed up for next 18 -24 months
- Created first LFP batteries from North American critical minerals

John Passalacqua, Int'l MBA, CEO and Director

John Passalacqua is an international business strategist with over 35 years of extensive technology and capital markets experience. In 1998, John gained the title of a top 50 international business strategist on the early internet. He is involved in private and public market planning for companies in nascent, visionary industries. John has lived in Quebec and is fluently bilingual.

Alexis de la Renaudière, Team Lead, Strategic Development

Alexis de la Renaudière is a business development professional with extensive capital markets experience. He was at the core of the development of Peterson Capital building and managing relationships with strategic and institutional investors. He is an out-of-the box thinker who pursues new business opportunities from a strategic perspective.