Purpose: Raise Awareness / Open Market Buying

Axo Copper Corp. is a Canadian mineral exploration company engaged in the exploration and development of the newly discovered, high-grade La Huerta property, a copper project located in Jalisco, Mexico. Initial exploration has yielded high-grade copper with long intervals at grades in excess of 5% Cu, both at surface through sampling programs, and at depth through initial drilling. The Company is focused on continuing to define near-surface mineralization along the La Huerta Trend, expanding mineralization at depth, and targeting new discoveries in an underexplored district.

Investor Highlights:

- Led by a team and board with a deep history of both building mines in Mexico and selling assets to majors.
- The La Huerta project was previously mined as a small scale, high-grade copper mine, with very minimal exploration work prior to Axo's ownership. Axo's initial Phase I drilling yielded stellar results such as 8.9m @ 5.9% Cu, and 9.5m @ 6.6% Cu.
- Recent financing of C$11.5mln completed in June 2025, and Phase II drill program of 15,000m has been initiated with the goal of expanding the known discovery both along strike and at depth.
