

Noble Plains Uranium

Symbol: TSXV: NOBL | QTCQB: NBLXF | FSE: INE

Sector: Resource

Purpose: Raise Awareness / Open Market Buying

Noble Plains is a United States-focused uranium exploration and development company advancing a portfolio of high-potential projects amenable to in situ recovery -- the most capital-efficient and environmentally responsible method of uranium extraction. Its strategy targets historically drilled and underexplored assets in proven jurisdictions, with the objective of rapidly delineating National Instrument 43-101-compliant resources and building a scalable inventory of domestic uranium.

Investor Highlights

- Rapidly advancing a growing portfolio of US ISR projects in Wyoming with upcoming catalyst of drilling at Duck Creek project
- Brownfield Advantage: Projects have meaningful historical work, creating base value of known mineralization with exploration upside
- Leverage to the US uranium renaissance as Noble build compliant pounds in the ground

Drew Zimmerman

Mr. Zimmerman has been an executive of public companies for over five years and brings more than 14 years of capital market and commodity sector experience. He previously worked as an investment adviser and derivatives portfolio manager, with a focus on commodity and resource markets, providing him with a deep understanding of market dynamics and investor engagement. Mr. Zimmerman is a chartered financial analyst and holds a Bachelor of Commerce in international business from the University of Victoria.