

STLLR Gold

Symbol: TSX: STLR; FSE: O9D

Sector: Resource - Gold

STLLR Gold Investor Presentation

STLLR Gold is a Canadian gold developer with 16.6 million ounces of gold mineral resources from two of the largest gold projects in Canada, each capable of almost 300koz/year production: Tower in Timmins, Ontario and the Colomac in NWT. Our 3rd project, the Hollinger Tailings Project in Timmins, is a near-term cash flow opportunity + ESG cleanup initiative. STLLR is cashed up (C$40 million) and trades at an attractive US$8/oz enterprise value to total resources (Peers US$170/oz). We have a team with mine building and operating experience, with Eric Sprott (15%) and Agnico Eagle (11%) as our largest shareholders, and our goal is to advance/de-risk all our projects and get to near-term cash flow with Hollinger. Let me know if you would like to meet.

Investor Highlights

- Size and Scale: STLLR has 16.6 million gold ounces in resources from 2 of the largest gold projects in Canada, each capable of delivering nearly 300,000 ounces of annual production
- Valuation: STLLR trades at US$8/oz in EV/Total Resources, presenting a significant upside opportunity vs. development stage peers (US$176/oz)
- Potential cash flow: STLLR sees potential for Hollinger to deliver near-term returns

Allan Candelario, VP Investor Relations & Corporate Development

Allan Candelario is an accomplished investor relations, corporate development, capital markets and finance professional, bringing over 15 years of progressive experience. Most recently, he was Vice President of Investor Relations at Battle North Gold Corp., where he played a key role in the company's turnaround and sale to Evolution Mining Ltd. in 2021. Previously, he managed investor relations at Alamos Gold Inc., worked in equity research for Canadian broker dealers, and holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from the Schulich School of Business and a CFA® designation.